Dear Mother,
I am well and hope
this finds you the same.

1.

Strangeman
11. BENJAMIN HUTCHINS

b. 5- 8-1756, Va.                      m.    -    -1775                      Judith McGehee, b.12-11-1753, Va.; d. 7-    -1813, Ohio.
d. 1-27-1856, Ohio.                      m: 2- 9-1815                      Mary Jenkins,    b. 4-24-1763; d. 4- 7-1839, Ohio.

The marriage was reported to Cedar Creek Mtg., 5-13-1775. It may have taken place any time within the previous month. Both buried at Randolph Cemetery.

Their children:

1. Meredith Hutchins,    b.10- 1-1776, Va.;    d.        -1823, Ohio, bur. Little York.
2. Anderson Hutchins,    b. 3-20-1776, Va.;    d. 5-15-1844, Ohio, bur. Stanton, near Troy.
3. Josiah Hutchins,        b. 6-25-1780, Va.;    d.        -1845, N.J., bur. near Sugartown.
4. Elizabeth Hutchins,    b. 4-15-1782, Va.;    d.12-16-1850, Ind., bur. near Kewanna.
5. John Hutchins,         b. 1- 4-1785, Va.;    d. 4-18-1852, Ind.,
6. Isaac Hutchins,        b. 6-15-1787, N.J.;    d.11-10-1861, Ohio, bur. Randolph Cemetery.
7. Benjamin Hutchins,    b. 5-15-1789, N.J.;    d. 5-19-1855, Ohio, bur. Randolph Cemetery.
8. Dorothy Hutchins,      b. 4-29-1791, N.J.;    d. 6- 5-1850, Ind., bur. Oxford Cem., Tippecanoe Co.
9. Strangeman Hutchins,    b. 4- 4-1793, N.J.;    d. 6- 6-1795, N.J.,
10. Strangeman Hutchins,    b.10-17-1796, N.J.;    d. 2- 3-1797, N.J.,
11. Lydia Hutchins,        b.10-20-1798, N.J.;    d.11-10-1878, Ind., bur. So. Mabash Cemetery.

The descendants of these are given on the following pages. It was impossible to obtain complete data.

Those who helped in the collection of these data, Mrs. Emma Sullivan and Mrs. Ella Whisler, Mabash, Indiana, Mr. William H. Reser, Lafayette, Indiana, and Mrs. Maude Zeller Wynne, San Diego, California, are now deceased. Their assistance was greatly appreciated.

Benjamin Hutchins was born in Goochland County, Virginia, and belonged to the Cedar Creek Friends Meeting. The records of Cedar Creek are in two minute books; the first, 1739-1773, the second, 1774-1794. Unfortunately there is a period of a year or more missing between the two books.

On p. 1 of the second book is found this item:

"Monthly Meeting, Caroline County, 13th day, 7th month, 1775, one of the Friends appointed to attend the marriage of Benjamin Hutchins and Judith McGehee, report that said marriage was accomplished in an orderly manner." As the previous Monthly Meeting records were missing, in which the declaration of intentions was recorded, we have never been able to learn the names of the parents of Judith. Benjamin was not active in the Meeting at Cedar Creek.

In the fall of 1785, Benjamin requested a certificate from Cedar Creek Meeting to Deep River Meeting, N.J. The request was granted and the certificate was approved and signed January 14, 1786. October 2, 1786, certificates, one for Benjamin and Sons, and one for Judith and daughters, were received and accepted at Deep River Meeting.

The Hutchins settled in Surry County, in the part now Yadkin. Deep River Meeting about thirty-five miles away was the nearest. A Preparative Meeting was soon established at Deep Creek, and marriages were reported to Deep River as early as 1786 and 1787.

In 1793, Deep Creek became a Monthly Meeting. One of the first acts of the new meeting was to appoint Benjamin Hutchins and Daniel Huff, a committee to purchase two minute books, one for the men and another for the women. These two books are yet in existence.

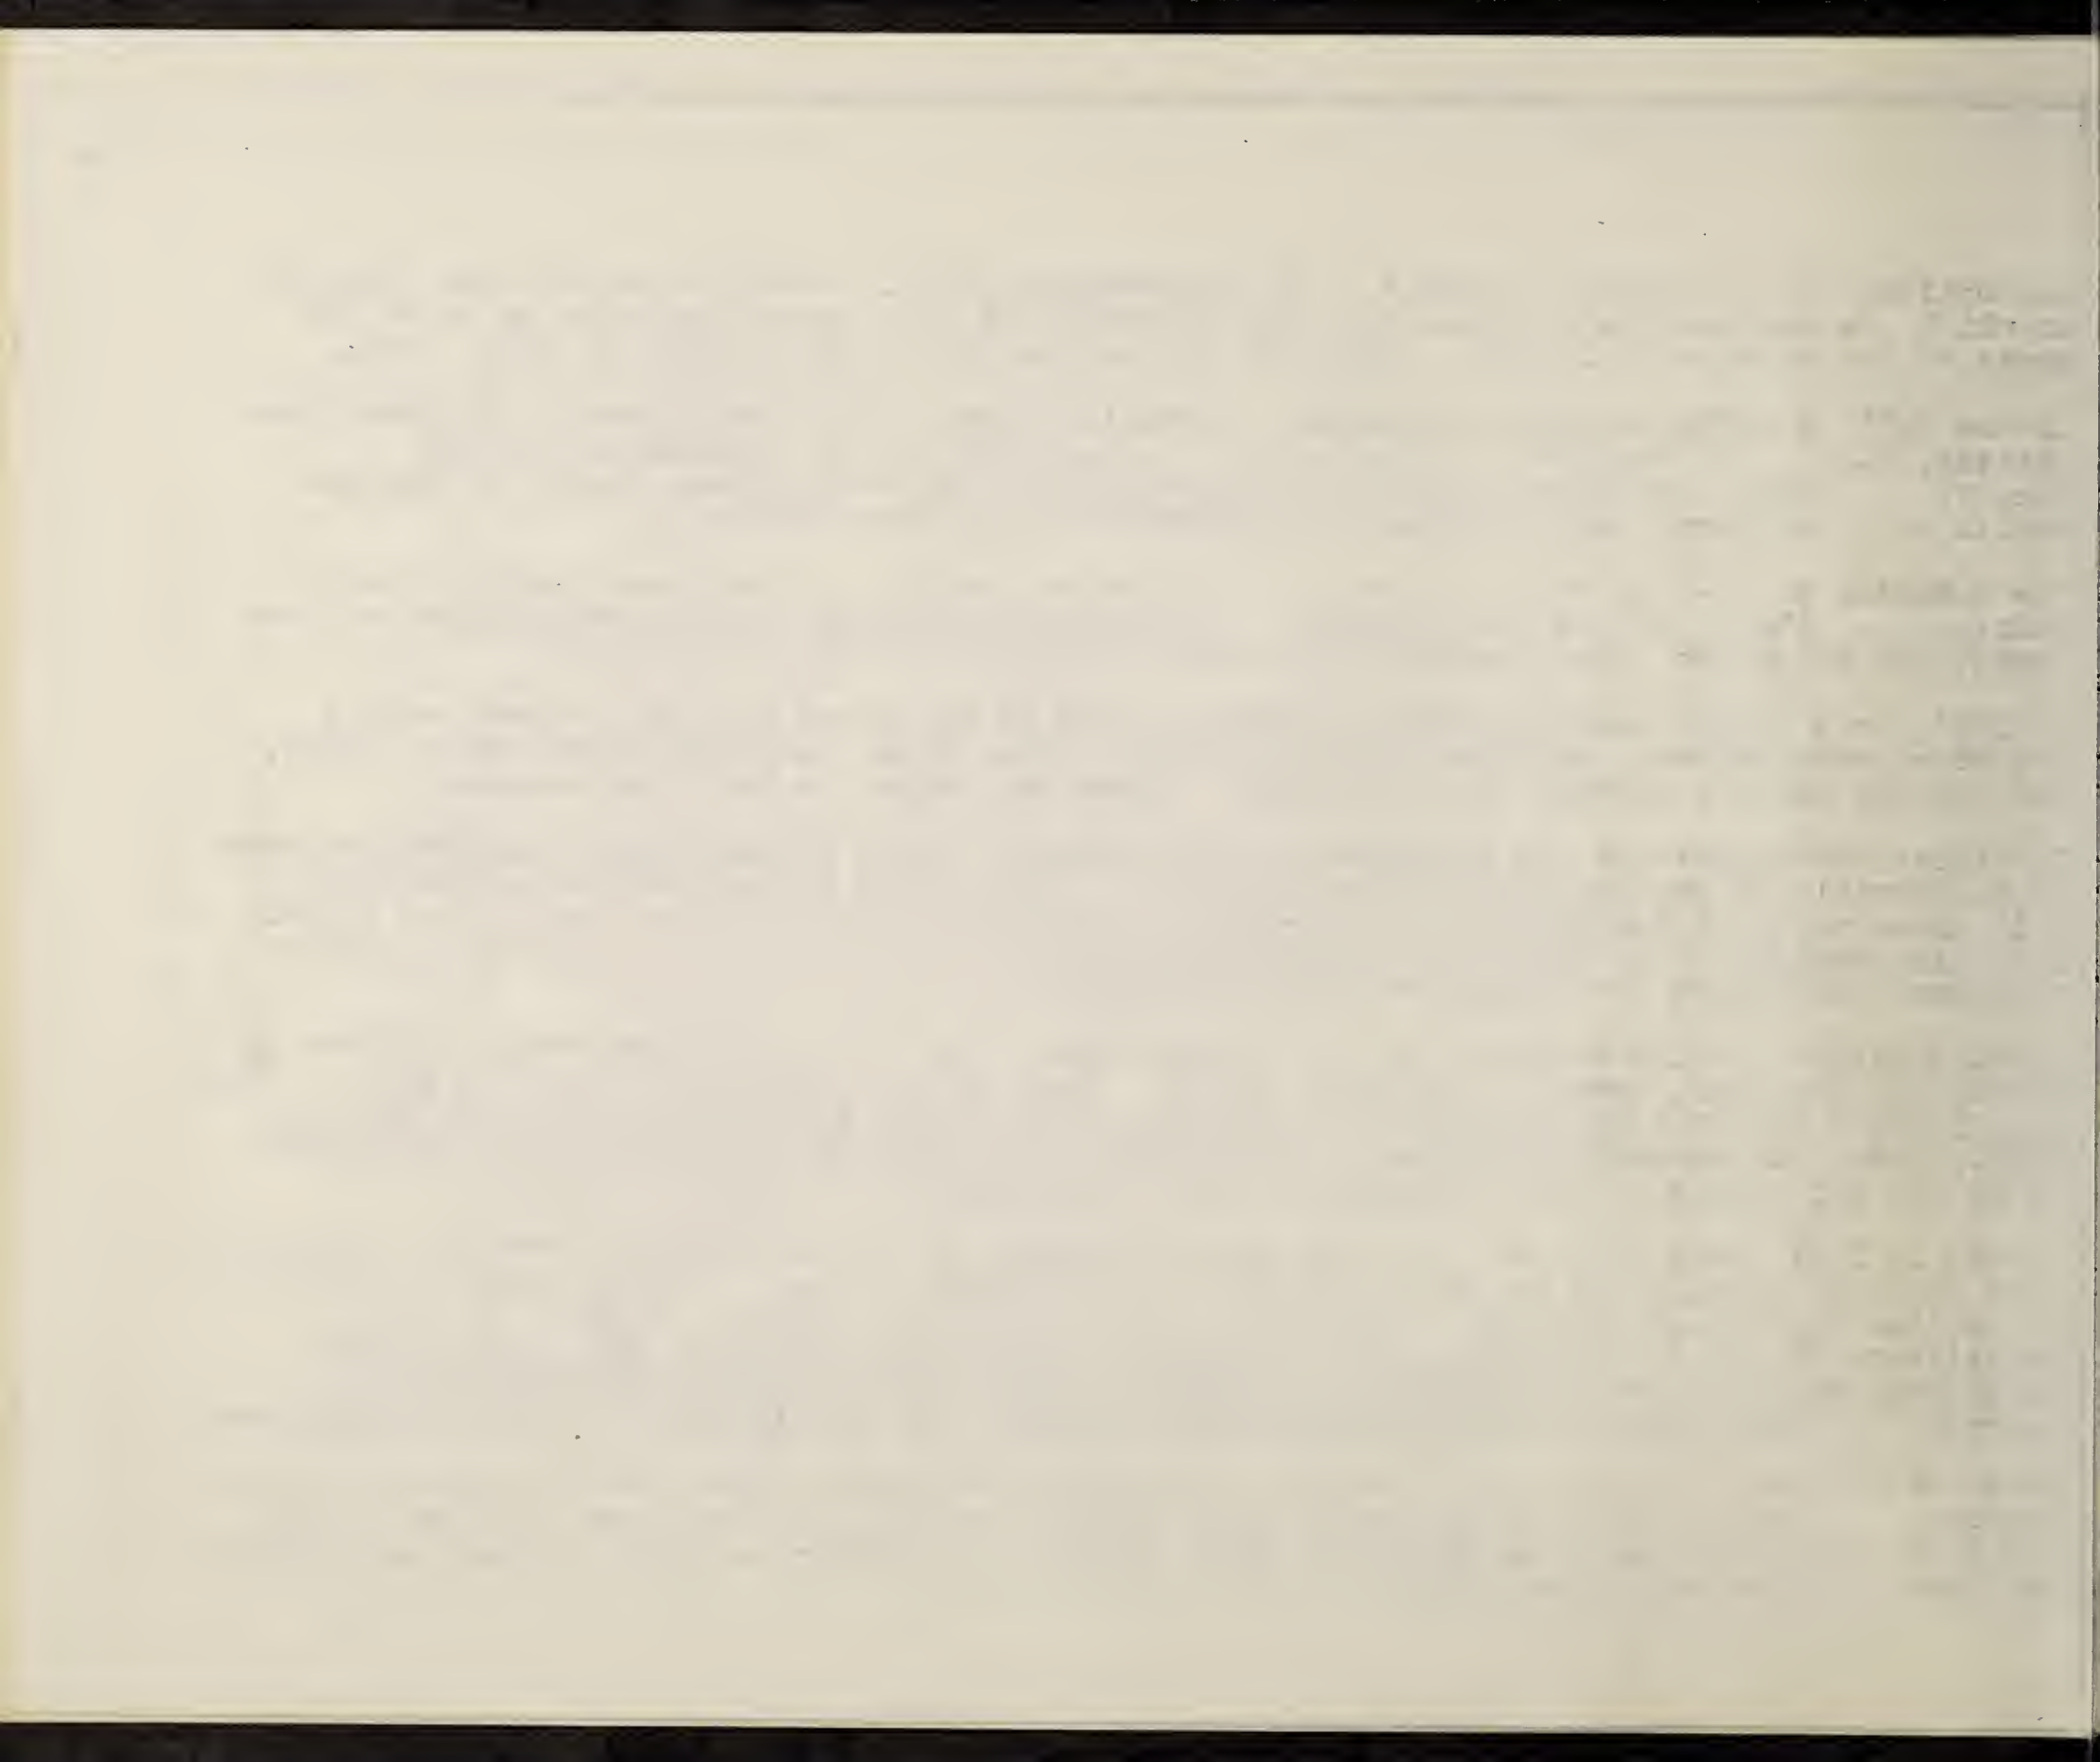

The first settlements of the Hutchins in Surry County, can be approximately located northeast of Yadkinville on the branches of Norbush Creek. Deep Creek Friends Church is four and a half miles north of Yadkinville. 7-5-1890, this Meeting proposes recommending our friend, Benjamin Hutchins as an Elder to the Quarterly Meeting. Of course the Hutchins were soon scattered throughout the region as they are today.

North Carolina was not entirely new to the Hutchins. In 1784, Catherine Stanley, sister of Strangeman Hutchins, moved to Guilford County. Some of her family were there in 1755. John and Nicholas Hutchins had explored the country, and had made land entries in Surry County, 1779. Benjamin Hutchins purchased, for 12, 1785, 760 acres on the south branch of Norbush Creek for 250 pounds. Land entries increased his holdings to about 850 acres.

August 1, 1807, Benjamin, his wife and minor children, and grand children, Jesse and Elizabeth, were granted certificates to Miami Meeting, Warren County, Ohio. Benjamin chose to settle in section 29, Butler Township, Montgomery County, north of Dayton. October 2, 1807, a certificate for Judith Hutchins, her daughters, Dorothy and Lydia, and her granddaughter, Elizabeth, was accepted at West Branch Meeting. December 18, 1807, a certificate was accepted at West Branch Meeting for Benjamin Hutchins, his son, Isaac, and his grandson, Jesse.

Soon West Branch, as a Quarterly Meeting, established Randolph Meeting in the Hutchins neighborhood. Unfortunately the records of the Randolph Meeting have been lost and the meeting was laid down long ago. The Randolph brick church is standing- no roof, no door, no windows, no floor, but the walls are solid.

The land for the church and burial ground was donated by Sylvanus Swallow.

Judith Hutchins, who died July, 1813, is said to have been the first to be buried there. Today, the burial ground, like the church, is neglected. Probably, there has not been a burial there in fifty years.

Benjamin and wife Judith, are buried there with monuments at their graves.

Isaac and Rebecca, Benjamin, Jr. and Hannah are also buried there and have monuments. Also many of the younger generation. However, many of the stones are fallen and covered with grass and weeds.

In 1815, Benjamin, Sr. married Mary Jenkins, widow of William Jenkins. William and Mary Jenkins had a son, William, who married Lydia Hutchins (daughter of Benjamin), and a daughter, Tamer, who married Jesse Hutchins (grandson of Benjamin).

We have followed Benjamin and Judith, by certificates, from Cedar Creek, Virginia, to Deep River, and Deep Creek, North Carolina. And from North Carolina by certificate, to West Branch, Ohio.

They found their bodily rest in Randolph Cemetery. We know their lives were a certificate to their Monthly Meeting in Heaven.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem. It is shown that the problem is of great importance in the theory of the differential equations of the second order. The problem is to find the general solution of the differential equation

$$y'' + p(x)y' + q(x)y = r(x)$$

where  $p(x)$ ,  $q(x)$  and  $r(x)$  are functions of  $x$ . The general solution of this equation can be found by the method of variation of parameters. The method consists in assuming a particular solution of the form

$$y = u(x)y_1(x) + v(x)y_2(x)$$

where  $y_1(x)$  and  $y_2(x)$  are two linearly independent solutions of the homogeneous equation

$$y'' + p(x)y' + q(x)y = 0$$

and  $u(x)$  and  $v(x)$  are functions to be determined. The method of variation of parameters leads to a system of two linear equations for  $u(x)$  and  $v(x)$ . The solution of this system gives the particular solution  $y$ . The general solution of the original equation is then obtained by adding the particular solution to the general solution of the homogeneous equation.

2. The second part of the paper is devoted to a detailed discussion of the method of variation of parameters. It is shown that the method can be applied to a wide class of differential equations. The method is based on the assumption that the particular solution of the non-homogeneous equation can be written as a linear combination of two linearly independent solutions of the homogeneous equation. The method of variation of parameters leads to a system of two linear equations for the coefficients of the particular solution. The solution of this system gives the particular solution. The general solution of the original equation is then obtained by adding the particular solution to the general solution of the homogeneous equation.

3. The third part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the applications of the method of variation of parameters. It is shown that the method can be used to find the general solution of a wide class of differential equations. The method is based on the assumption that the particular solution of the non-homogeneous equation can be written as a linear combination of two linearly independent solutions of the homogeneous equation. The method of variation of parameters leads to a system of two linear equations for the coefficients of the particular solution. The solution of this system gives the particular solution. The general solution of the original equation is then obtained by adding the particular solution to the general solution of the homogeneous equation.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem. It is shown that the problem is of great importance and that it has not been completely solved. The author then proceeds to a detailed analysis of the problem, showing that it is a special case of a more general problem. The author then discusses the various methods that have been used to solve the problem, and shows that the method proposed in this paper is the most efficient. The author then concludes the paper by stating that the problem has been solved and that the method proposed is the best.

2. The second part of the paper is devoted to a detailed analysis of the problem. It is shown that the problem is a special case of a more general problem. The author then discusses the various methods that have been used to solve the problem, and shows that the method proposed in this paper is the most efficient. The author then concludes the paper by stating that the problem has been solved and that the method proposed is the best.

3. The third part of the paper is devoted to a detailed analysis of the problem. It is shown that the problem is a special case of a more general problem. The author then discusses the various methods that have been used to solve the problem, and shows that the method proposed in this paper is the most efficient. The author then concludes the paper by stating that the problem has been solved and that the method proposed is the best.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general introduction of the subject. It is here that the author states the purpose of the study and the scope of the work. The introduction is followed by a brief review of the literature on the subject, which shows that the problem has not been fully solved. The author then states his own contribution to the field.

2. The second part of the paper is devoted to the description of the experimental method. The author describes the apparatus used and the procedure followed in the experiments. He then presents the results of the experiments, which are shown in the form of tables and graphs. The author then discusses the results and compares them with the results of other experiments.

3. The third part of the paper is devoted to the discussion of the results. The author discusses the significance of the results and their implications for the theory of the subject. He then concludes the paper with a summary of the main results and a statement of his conclusions.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem. It is shown that the problem is of great importance in the theory of the structure of the atom. The problem is to find the wave function of the electron in the atom. This is a difficult problem, but it is of great importance in the theory of the structure of the atom. 1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem. It is shown that the problem is of great importance in the theory of the structure of the atom. The problem is to determine the structure of the atom from the experimental data. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem. 1. The first part of the report deals with the general situation of the country. It is a very interesting and informative study of the country's development. The author has done a great deal of research and has gathered a wealth of material. The report is well written and is a valuable contribution to the study of the country's development.

2. The second part of the report deals with the economic situation of the country. It is a very interesting and informative study of the country's economic development. The author has done a great deal of research and has gathered a wealth of material. The report is well written and is a valuable contribution to the study of the country's economic development.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem. It is shown that the problem is of great importance in the theory of the differential equations of the second order. The problem is to find the general solution of the differential equation

$$y'' + p(x)y' + q(x)y = r(x)$$

where  $p(x)$ ,  $q(x)$  and  $r(x)$  are functions of  $x$ . The general solution of this equation can be found by the method of variation of parameters. The method consists in assuming a particular solution of the form

$$y = u(x)y_1(x) + v(x)y_2(x)$$

where  $y_1(x)$  and  $y_2(x)$  are two linearly independent solutions of the homogeneous equation

$$y'' + p(x)y' + q(x)y = 0$$

and  $u(x)$  and  $v(x)$  are functions to be determined. The method of variation of parameters leads to a system of two linear equations for  $u(x)$  and  $v(x)$ . The solution of this system gives the particular solution of the inhomogeneous equation. The general solution of the inhomogeneous equation is then obtained by adding the particular solution to the general solution of the homogeneous equation.

2. The second part of the paper is devoted to a detailed discussion of the method of variation of parameters. It is shown that the method can be applied to the differential equation of the second order with constant coefficients. The method consists in assuming a particular solution of the form

where  $y_1(x)$  and  $y_2(x)$  are two linearly independent solutions of the homogeneous equation

$$y'' + p(x)y' + q(x)y = 0$$

and  $u(x)$  and  $v(x)$  are functions to be determined. The method of variation of parameters leads to a system of two linear equations for  $u(x)$  and  $v(x)$ . The solution of this system gives the particular solution of the inhomogeneous equation. The general solution of the inhomogeneous equation is then obtained by adding the particular solution to the general solution of the homogeneous equation.

3. The third part of the paper is devoted to a detailed discussion of the method of variation of parameters. It is shown that the method can be applied to the differential equation of the second order with variable coefficients. The method consists in assuming a particular solution of the form

where  $y_1(x)$  and  $y_2(x)$  are two linearly independent solutions of the homogeneous equation

$$y'' + p(x)y' + q(x)y = 0$$

and  $u(x)$  and  $v(x)$  are functions to be determined. The method of variation of parameters leads to a system of two linear equations for  $u(x)$  and  $v(x)$ . The solution of this system gives the particular solution of the inhomogeneous equation. The general solution of the inhomogeneous equation is then obtained by adding the particular solution to the general solution of the homogeneous equation.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem. It is shown that the problem is of great importance in the theory of differential equations. The author then proceeds to a detailed analysis of the problem, showing that it is equivalent to a problem in the theory of integral equations. This is done by introducing a suitable transformation, which reduces the original problem to a problem in the theory of integral equations. The author then shows that this problem can be solved by the method of successive approximations, which leads to the desired result.

2. The second part of the paper is devoted to a detailed analysis of the problem. It is shown that the problem is of great importance in the theory of differential equations. The author then proceeds to a detailed analysis of the problem, showing that it is equivalent to a problem in the theory of integral equations. This is done by introducing a suitable transformation, which reduces the original problem to a problem in the theory of integral equations. The author then shows that this problem can be solved by the method of successive approximations, which leads to the desired result.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general survey of the subject. It is divided into three main sections: (a) the history of the subject, (b) the present state of the subject, and (c) the future of the subject. In the first section, the author traces the development of the subject from its earliest beginnings to the present time. In the second section, he discusses the various methods which have been employed in the study of the subject, and the results which have been obtained. In the third section, he considers the prospects of the subject for the future, and the work which still remains to be done.

2. The second part of the paper is devoted to a detailed examination of the various methods which have been employed in the study of the subject. It is divided into two main sections: (a) the methods of observation, and (b) the methods of experiment. In the first section, the author discusses the various methods which have been employed in the observation of the subject, and the results which have been obtained. In the second section, he discusses the various methods which have been employed in the experiment of the subject, and the results which have been obtained.

3. The third part of the paper is devoted to a detailed examination of the various results which have been obtained in the study of the subject. It is divided into two main sections: (a) the results of observation, and (b) the results of experiment. In the first section, the author discusses the various results which have been obtained in the observation of the subject, and the conclusions which have been drawn from them. In the second section, he discusses the various results which have been obtained in the experiment of the subject, and the conclusions which have been drawn from them.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general survey of the state of the country at the beginning of the year. It is found that the weather has been unusually early and severe, and that the crops are generally in a backward state. The winter has been a hard one, and the spring has been a dry one. The result is that the crops are generally small, and the stock is in a poor state of health. The government has taken steps to relieve the distress, but it is feared that the year will be a bad one for the country.

2. The second part of the paper is devoted to a detailed account of the state of the country in each of the several districts. It is found that the state of the country is generally similar to that of the whole. The weather has been unusually early and severe, and the crops are generally in a backward state. The winter has been a hard one, and the spring has been a dry one. The result is that the crops are generally small, and the stock is in a poor state of health. The government has taken steps to relieve the distress, but it is feared that the year will be a bad one for the country.

3. The third part of the paper is devoted to a detailed account of the state of the country in each of the several districts. It is found that the state of the country is generally similar to that of the whole. The weather has been unusually early and severe, and the crops are generally in a backward state. 1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem. It is shown that the problem is of great importance in the theory of the differential equations of the second order. The problem is to find the general solution of the differential equation

where  $p(x)$ ,  $q(x)$  and  $r(x)$  are functions of  $x$ . The general solution of this equation can be found by the method of variation of parameters. The method consists in assuming a particular solution of the form

$$y = u(x)y_1(x) + v(x)y_2(x)$$

where  $y_1(x)$  and  $y_2(x)$  are two linearly independent solutions of the homogeneous equation

$$y'' + p(x)y' + q(x)y = 0$$

and  $u(x)$  and  $v(x)$  are functions to be determined. The method of variation of parameters leads to a system of two linear equations for  $u(x)$  and  $v(x)$ . The solution of this system gives the particular solution of the inhomogeneous equation. The general solution of the inhomogeneous equation is then obtained by adding the particular solution to the general solution of the homogeneous equation.

2. The second part of the paper is devoted to a detailed discussion of the method of variation of parameters. It is shown that the method can be applied to a wide class of differential equations. The method is based on the assumption that the particular solution of the inhomogeneous equation can be written as a linear combination of two linearly independent solutions of the homogeneous equation. The method of variation of parameters leads to a system of two linear equations for the functions  $u(x)$  and  $v(x)$ . The solution of this system gives the particular solution of the inhomogeneous equation. The general solution of the inhomogeneous equation is then obtained by adding the particular solution to the general solution of the homogeneous equation.

3. The third part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the applications of the method of variation of parameters. It is shown that the method can be applied to a wide class of differential equations. The method is based on the assumption that the particular solution of the inhomogeneous equation can be written as a linear combination of two linearly independent solutions of the homogeneous equation. 4-Anderson Hutchins m- 7-14-1824 Hannah Dailey b- 5-24-1804, N.C., d- abt. 1850 b- -1806, Pa.

All we know about this family is from the Census Reports, and from the Court Records of Boone County, Indiana.
 In the Boone County Court, Hannah Young was the first guardian of minor children, heirs to property descended from their grand father, deceased, Anderson Hutchins of Miami County, O. I think Hannah Young must have returned to Ohio, and May the first, 1867 Oliver Cravens, was appointed guardian of David A. Hutchins and Lula Bell Hutchins, heirs of Lewis Hutchins to one-fifth of the estate. Lewis deceased, soldier killed at Pulaski, Tenn., 9-27-1864. Oliver Cravens was also guardian of William Weaver, Mary E. Weaver, Sarah Weaver, and Susan Bell Weaver, minor heirs of Hannah Young, heirs to one-fifth of estate.
 The Hutchins lived in Boone County, Indiana. The Weavers, in Miami County, Ohio.

We are unable to find any trace of this family. Lucinda Bewly wrote a letter to Daniel Hutchins, of Wabash, Indiana, in 1865. In this she mentioned her two brothers, Bonaparte and Alexander, one in Michigan, the other in Indiana.

In 1872, another letter said, that Bonaparte and Alexander had moved to Iowa, (I think in the fall of 1869 or 1870) where Alexander soon died.

Keziah Huff, first wife of Anderson Hutchins, was daughter of Daniel and Elizabeth Huff. When the Deep Creek Meeting was established, 1793, in Surry (now Yadkin) County, one of the first acts of the meeting was to appoint Benjamin Hutchins and Daniel Huff, a committee to obtain two record books.

Thomas W. Barnett said of Anderson Hutchins, who was his uncle, "After the death of his first wife, Anderson wandered by sea and land over the world for the space of ten or twelve years."

The Bewly family lived in the vicinity of Troy, Ohio, as some do now. It is from them that we have the statement that Anderson is buried at Staunton Cemetery.

Tribute to Mrs. Emma Hutchins Sullivan, No. 8

Mrs. Sullivan resided in Wabash during the time we knew her and we were in her home frequently. She was always friendly and gave help willingly. She gave us a copy of the Diary of her grandfather, Jesse Hutchins, son of Anderson, of Benjamin, Sr. The records are chiefly of expenditures and receipts of money, beginning in January, 1831. Items of human interest are, for example, "Tramped out wheat  $\frac{1}{2}$  day and went squirrel hunting the rest." "March 20,- Sabbath- Went to meeting. Grandfather this evening quit using tobacco." (Grandfather referred to, is Benjamin Hutchins, Sr.) Usually the Sabbath day item was, "Went to meeting."

Mrs. Sullivan died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Earl Foote, in Huntington, Indiana.

m- 8-23-1844, N.C.      Sarah Rutledge

We were not very successful in finding data of this family. While the others of the Benjamin Hutchins family migrated to Ohio, Josiah remained in North Carolina where he had large holdings of land. After his death, his personal property sold for over $2,400, a large amount for that day.

In 1936, we visited that region. Josiah lived near Sugartown. A part of his home, which in his Will, he called his "Mansion House", is still standing. Josiah and his wife are buried about three squares from his home in a clump of shrubs in an open field. The owner of the land thought to remove the burial place, but desisted on account of a dream. According to the Will there were six children, order of birth not known.

The names of the children and dates of birth, are taken from the Census of Surry County, 1850. Josiah Hughes was not given in that Census. The family moved to Hardin County, Iowa. In 1870 Census, Judith, Meredith, Josiah (son) and Lovisa were in that County, Providence Township.

We have been unable to find the families of Edward Carter and Daniel Pilcher. (See 1 and 2 above) From some records it can be inferred that Edward Carter lived north of Sugartown, N.C., and Daniel Pilcher lived near Shacktown, or Forbush Baptist Church.

Thomas W. Barnett, of Fulton County, Indiana, was a nephew of Josiah, and a first cousin of this John Hutchins. Thomas W. kept extensive diaries, and account books, in which were pages of history of the Barnett and Hutchins families. Of Josiah Hutchins, he said, "I never saw any of this family except John. He was a large and likely man. He has been dead some years." This was written in 1858.

* In 1828, in Montgomery County, Ohio, there was a marriage of a John W. Hutchins, born 1803 in North Carolina to Jane Reed. Their children were Josiah, Elizabeth, Rachel and Margaret. This is given only as a possible clue.

Mary Williams who married Josiah Hutchins, was of a large and important family in Surry County. She was the daughter of John and Elizabeth Williams, a sister of Thomas Williams who married Elizabeth Harding, daughter of Obedience Hutchins and William Harding, and grand daughter of Timothy Williams who came from England.

Josiah Hutchins was a birthright Quaker. His marriage in 1799 did not conform to the rule of the Church and he was disowned. In 1800 he repented of his failure to observe the discipline, and regained his membership. In 1805, he left the Church, or perhaps it should be said the Church left him.

Josiah was a successful merchant at Rockford, N.C. This town, now of about 400 population, was for perhaps fifty years, the County Seat of Surry County. The town is on the north side of the Yadkin River at a natural site for a ferry. In 1851, Surry County was divided and the part south of the Yadkin River was made into Yadkin County. New county seats were established, and Rockford lost its importance as a trading center.

Daniel H. Hutchins was a Friends Minister.

His will was probated at Dayton, Ohio, 12-19-1866.

The will reads like a sermon and a prayer. Everything was left to his wife Dorcas, who was Executrix without bond. There was one exception as to her remarriage.

1-15-1874, John Miles, widower, of Wayne County, Indiana, Milford Meeting, and Dorcas Hutchins, widow of Daniel H. Hutchins, daughter of John and Sarah Jones, were married at the West Branch Friends Church.

Thomas J. Hutchins' early life and school days were spent on the farm where he was born. He joined the Friends Church at eighteen years of age and was a worker and teacher in the Sunday School as long as he was able to attend. He taught several terms of school in Wabash and Grant counties, Indiana.

After his marriage in 1877, they lived with his parents on the home farm in Grant County. He still taught school and after removing to Kansas in 1885, he taught other terms of school. In all, seventeen years of teaching in public schools. He loved children. He was a wonderfully gentle and intelligent man; proud of the successes of his grandchildren, sorrowful with them over their small sorrows, yet ever with a gospel of hope.

His whole life radiated faith, hope and peace. Never was this more plain than during the last fifteen years of his life, when his cross was blindness. He set an example of patience and faith that few can achieve.

Mrs. T. J. Hutchins (Nancy Weesner) was industrious, frugal and kind to her grandchildren.

We will always remember her cooky box. In her younger days she was faithful to her church and attended as long as the Center Meeting kept up. Her hobby was making quilts to use up the patches left over from sewing. They always raised garden and chickens.

Mrs. Hutchins is still living in the home of her son, Dorsey J. Hutchins, Dighton, Kansas.

Lieut. John Andrew George died Dec. 22, 1941. He was located at Ft. Stotsenburg, Phillipines. He fell the day that Gen. McArthur retreated from Bataan Peninsula. His regiment, the 26th. Cavalry, gave cover for the retreat and acted as buffer between U.S. Infantry and Japanese tanks. He died in this action and a posthumous award of the Order of the Purple Heart, was made. He was a fine boy, a graduate by his own efforts of Illinois University. His widow continued her work in the drafting office of the Parsons, Kansas, Defense Plant until her second marriage.

The following interesting notes on the family of Thomas Jefferson Hutchins, were contributed by Nancy Esther Hutchins Hineman, (Mrs. George E.) the oldest grandchild:

"My father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey J. Hutchins, both attended Sterling College as under classmen (what we call now High School) a few months each. All of their children are High School graduates and three graduated from college.

My Dad loves feeding cattle- does it and wheat farming on a large scale, is very successful and a good business man. He reads a great deal. Mother loves everyone, I believe, also flowers, crocheting, reading and music, as well as her church. Until the past year, everyone always remarked, 'What a goodlooking woman!'

Mother delights in traveling, too, and I am a regular gad-a-bout. (Laid low by the War, but barely repressed.) Other hobbies of mine are genealogy, art, music and poetry. I have also taught school, as did my sisters.

George Hineman, my husband, and my Dad like to go to auction sales of live stock and watch for bargains. They and A.J. Selfridge do more manual labor and planning than any men I know and the three are the real money makers of this whole county.

My sons, Richard Elmer and Kalo Albert Hineman, were graduates in Veterinary Medicine and Surgery in August, 1943. They both rank as First Lieutenants and having had two years of military training; this with their Veterinary degrees, will probably get them into the Cavalry where they desire to be, so as to practice their profession.

Kalo was the president of the 1943 class of Veterinary Students and he was also president of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity for two years. He loves to hunt. Dick was the vice president of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity for one year. He loves to fish.

Rita Jean, my elder daughter, loves music-has never been told to practice, is playing violin solo in contest this year, has played piano in thirteen contests. She has several music and scholarship letters and has signed C.W.C. this next year, as they gave her a $250 scholarship.

Rachel, my second daughter, loves to sing and cook and is popular with her friends. Herby, my youngest son, would rather fish than eat. He was rigging fishing tackle when the temperature was five degrees below zero. She died at 15 yrs (Rachel).

The following information was obtained from the records of the Department of the Interior, Bureau of Land Management, on the subject of the land owned by the United States in the State of California, and the same is hereby published for the information of the public.

The land owned by the United States in the State of California is divided into two classes, to-wit: (1) land owned by the United States in fee simple, and (2) land owned by the United States in trust for the benefit of the Indians.

My brother, Clarence T. Hutchins, and family, removed to an irrigated farm in Scott County, Kansas, in the summer of 1941, and built a fine new residence. Address, Scott City. Calvin, son of Clarence, is of draft age now, and is a live stock boy, while his brother Eugene, likes irrigated crops best. Clarence and A.J. Selfridge like to go to base ball and foot ball games, as does Marion.

Marion and Grace Hutchins purchased an irrigated farm, have a fine big well, built a nice new home which they removed to in autumn of 1941. They live a mile or so south west of the Shallow-water refinery, but their address is Scott City, due to a Star Route between Scott City and Garden City. They live about forty miles from us and Clarence lives about thirty-three miles. Marion and Clarence are both very successful wheat farmers and cattle raisers.

Don has been a very successful truck man, but has now turned to farming. In December, 1942, he and his family removed from Dad's old home farm at Sterling, to a farm they purchased in Wichita County, Kansas, and live about thirty-six miles away. Address, Marienthal, Kansas Florida in winter.

Virginia is a neighborhood leader in her Farm Bureau Club, has taught school two years, and also does china painting. She and her husband, A.J. Selfridge, previously mentioned as a successful farmer, are also successful in raising garden and poultry. They are now getting two hundred-fifty to three hundred eggs a day. Sue Ann, their baby girl, runs everywhere and expects, and is, the center of attraction. She is chubby and apple-cheeked.

Pauline does too many things well- church leadership, childrens' groups, plays piano well and has sung in church choir a lot. She was valedictorian of her High School class, attended Sterling College two years, after which she taught school one year. Now, she helps Ross in the store, which is the largest in Sterling, and no meat merchant in Kansas sells more meat than he does. Both Ross and Pauline take an active interest in civic and community affairs. He is a member of the Home Guards. Pauline taught school for years and graduated from college by means of night classes & summer school.

Olive's bent is knitting and fine sewing, and plays violin. She is active in her church and so is her husband, Frank Ashlock. His work is milling chemistry. The mill he works for exports flour mainly. His hobby is photography and turning wood on his lathe, then finishing up furniture and gifts. He loves to hunt with his Dad. 1967 - Farms in Lane Co. Kans.

Hazelbel attended college three years, after which she taught school one year and worked one year in a Wichita architect's office, then finished her college course. She has taken prizes at Kansas State Fair with her crayon and oil paintings. Her marriage to Lieut. John A. George is mentioned on a previous page.

2nd. m. 1962 - since when she has lived mostly in New Mexico & Arizona.

Albert Fowler was first a Friends Minister.
Later, a United Brethren Minister.

The Brandenburgs came from the House of Brandenburg, Germany.
The Curtis family, had as an ancestor, a sister of Lord Broughton.
The Kruger family trace to Rev. Hans Herr, who came to Pennsylvania with William Penn.
Rhoda Hutchins was an unusual woman. She was an excellent house keeper and very religious.

Wabash County, Indiana, June Term of Court, 1869, Estate of Vestal Hutchins, Davis Hutchins,Adm.
 Bond, $6000. Vestal is the first son of Benjamin, Jr.

Hugh Allen Hutchins, # 1, page 82, is a designer and manufacturer of farm machinery. He was born in Wabash County, Indiana, but now resides in California. He is a very successful business man, making many trips to Washington, D.C., to have his designs patented.
 Personally, he is a very fine representative member of the Hutchins family,-as are the two older sons who visited us one summer a few years ago. Hugh and son, Gene, stopped here over night in February, 1940.

3 above, Mrs. James W. Anderson, was a dear, good woman, who bore her afflictions bravely. She was extremely interested in family history and helped in many ways, - having in her possession old records which she lent. One of these was the account of the trip back to North Carolina by her great-grandfather, Benjamin Hutchins,Jr., made in 1836. Mrs. Anderson was the only child of Julia Ann Hutchins who lived to maturity. And as she left no descendants, there are no further records of this line. They lived in Murlin Heights, Ohio.

Joseph P. Hutchins, Private, enlisted 3-25-1861, Company C, 71st Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry. Mustered out Sept. 27, 1865. Buried, grave 936 in St. Elizabeth Hospital Cemetery, Washington, D.C.

Dayton P. Hutchins, Private, enrolled 8-26-1861, Hamilton, Ohio, Company I, 35th Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry. Was mustered into service at Cincinnati, 10-5-1861, to date of Sept. 24, 1861. Was transferred to Company H, same Regiment. Died at Nashville, Tennessee. Buried, grave number 2334, Cave Hill National Cemetery, Kentucky.

Horatio Stephens Hutchins, Private, enrolled at Hamilton, Ohio, 8-26-1861, mustered into service 9-9-1861, Company H, 35th Regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry. Honorably discharged at Chatanooga, Tenn., by reason of disability, Jan. 3, 1864. Neither the Pension Bureau nor the War Department has further records of him.

William O. Hutchins, Private, enlisted 8-11-1862, for three years in Company D, 94th Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry. Discharged May 2, 1863 at Columbus, Ohio, on Surgeon's Certificate of Disability. Died at the National Military Home, Dayton, Ohio, Jan. 6, 1882. Buried, Section D, Row 1, grave 6.

Benjamin Franklin Hutchins, Private, enlisted Aug. 21, 1862, at Tippecanoe City, Ohio, was mustered into service Aug. 24, 1862, Company D, 94th Regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry. Company D. was commanded by Captain Rue Hutchins. Benjamin F. died at Murfreesboro, Tennessee, and was buried in grave 437. It appears that the marker to the grave has been destroyed, and the former soldier is now probably buried among the Unknown at the National Cemetery, Murfreesboro, Tennessee.

Allen J. Hutchins, Private, enlisted Aug. 26, 1861 for three years, in Company H, 35th Regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry. Died 2-4-1862 of Typhoid Fever, at Somerset, Kentucky. No record found of the burial place.

Both of these marriages were at Flat Rock Friends Meeting, Henry County, Indiana. Ann was the daughter of Borden and Rachel Cox Hanson and had been previously married to Enos Hutchins, a second cousin of John. John was of Mill Creek Meeting, Ohio, and it may be that Frances Malinda is buried at Mill Creek Cemetery.

John and Ann are buried at the site of old Pleasant Hill Quaker Church, now torn down, west of New London, Indiana. The burial ground is known as the Hanson Grave Yard, nine miles west and three miles south of Kokomo, Indiana.

Dorothy, daughter of Benjamin and Judith (McGehee) Hutchins was born in North Carolina and came with her parents to Ohio in 1807. She was a birthright Quaker, but later became a member of the Methodist Church.

Frederick Waymire, son of Frederick and Rebecca Lowe Waymire, was married to Dorothy Hutchins in Ohio. Frederick was a young man of thirty-three at the time of his death and left a family of seven children, the youngest being only a year old. His sister Rebecca Waymire Gaddis died the same day and they were buried in the same grave at Eaton, Ohio.

Several years later, 1827, his widow, Dorothy Hutchins Waymire, married William Gaddis, his sister's surviving husband. They each had seven children by first marriage, thus, their family at the beginning of second marriage, was a total of sixteen souls - a full table to start with. They were married by David Hoover, J.P. - David performing this official proceeding for most all his relatives, near and distant.

Soon after marriage they came to Indiana and settled in Perry Township, Tippecanoe County, near the old "Half-way" house on the highway now known as State Road 26. After residing here many years, they were intending to move to Rossville, but she died at the home of one of her step-sons, a son of William Gaddis.

Dorothy and William Gaddis are buried in the Oxford Cemetery two miles south and four miles west of Rossville, Indiana, in Tippecanoe County. There are monuments at their graves. Their daughter Harriett Hewit, is also buried there.

The cemetery at Rossville is the burial place of many Hutchins descendants of various names. Many of the Smith, Gaddis, Short and Staley Families, are buried there.

Many descendants of these early families still reside in Perry Township and surrounding localities.

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

TO THE HONORABLE SENATE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 10th inst. in relation to the proposed change in the curriculum of the Department of Chemistry. I am very glad to hear that you are considering the suggestion, and I am sure that the Senate will make a wise decision in the matter. I am sure that the Department of Chemistry will be able to meet the requirements of the new curriculum, and I am sure that the students will benefit from the change. I am sure that the Department of Chemistry will be able to meet the requirements of the new curriculum, and I am sure that the students will benefit from the change.

The names of the children by the two marriages, are as follows:

 b- 6- 6-1809,d- 1-11-1898 9 children. b- 8-24-1802,d-11-23-1868, Ohio.

Huldah C. Waymire, born 1809, Montgomery County, Ohio, married John Staley in Ohio. The parents of John were Martin from Germany and Mary Cousins of North Carolina. They came to Ohio in 1817. Martin died in 1845.

Huldah and John came to Indiana in 1829 and settled in Perry Township, Tippecanoe County, where they spent the rest of their lives. Here all their children were born. Huldah lived thirty years after the death of John. Both are buried in cemetery at Dayton, Indiana.

During the later years of her life, her birthday was observed by her children and grandchildren, also brothers and sisters. After her death, the Sunday nearest to her birth date, June 6th., was chosen for the annual Staley Reunion which has been held for many years. She was revered and loved by all who knew her.

Clifford Staley was a teacher in the Tippecanoe County schools for several years. During the first World War, he served with the rank of First Lieutenant. At the time of his death he was residing in Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Cora Staley Davisson and husband, John B. were both teachers of experience in Tippecanoe County. Elizabeth Staley Frey, sister of Cora, was also a teacher. They all have residence now in Rossville, Clinton County.

Earl Staley served as Sheriff of Tippecanoe County two terms. His wife Orpha is the daughter of a former Sheriff, Joseph Jackson (son of Andrew and Mary Jackson). Earl is the President of the Staley Reunion, a position he has held many years.

1. The first part of the report is a general introduction to the subject of the study. It discusses the importance of the problem and the objectives of the research.

2. The second part of the report is a detailed description of the methods used in the study. It includes a discussion of the experimental design, the data collection procedures, and the statistical analysis techniques.

3. The third part of the report is a presentation of the results of the study. It includes a discussion of the findings and their implications for the field of research.

4. The fourth part of the report is a conclusion and a discussion of the limitations of the study. It also includes a list of references and an appendix containing additional data and figures.

5. The fifth part of the report is a summary of the main findings of the study. It is intended to provide a clear and concise overview of the research for those who are interested in the subject.

6. The sixth part of the report is a list of references. It includes a list of all the sources of information used in the study, including books, articles, and other documents.

7. The seventh part of the report is an appendix. It contains additional data and figures that are not included in the main body of the report. It is intended to provide a more detailed look at the results of the study for those who are interested in the subject.

Andrew Waymire, born 1810. All his sons enlisted in the Union Army, also his step sons.

About 1866 or 1867, he left Indiana for Illinois. In 1878 his sons John and Harvey went over-land to Nebraska, bought railroad land and built sod houses. He and his wife Mary and two step sons left Illinois, going to Beatrice, Nebraska. Farther west in Saline County, they located, and endured the hardships of pioneer life. Not long after they arrived in Nebraska, the state was visited by grasshoppers. Some of the relatives around Deedsville, Indiana, remembered that the Indiana folks sent a car load of provision to their assistance.

Andrew deeded two acres of land for church and cemetery. Here in this Waymire Cemetery, Andrew and his second and third wives are buried, as are many others of the family. After the death of the third wife, Andrew made his home with his son, Harvey.

Annie Eliza Buck Waymire, a daughter-in-law, said of him, "None knew him but to love him, and no one doubted his professed Christianity. Always jolly, and had a sunshine face."

Andrew and his first wife, Hannah Hutchins, were first cousins,- she being the daughter of John and Rebecca Hutchins.

Rev. William Dillon was a United Brethren minister for sixty years. He served his church in many capacities. He was editor of the church paper for seventeen years and was Bishop four years on the Pacific Coast. He was a College Professor, teaching Greek and Hebrew, and also a College President.

In some cases the name Huffman is spelled Hoffman. I do not know which is correct. The Huffmans lived at Euphemia, Ohio, now Lewisburg, on the National Trail Road #40.

Thomas and Rebecca Smith were married in Tippecanoe County, Indiana, and settled south of Rossville. Thomas was a carpenter and Local M.E. preacher and was one of the first settlers of Ross Township, Clinton County, Indiana. His father, William Smith, entered the land that all the west part of Rossville is situated upon. Thomas helped lay out Rossville and named it. Rebecca joined the Methodist Church in 1833.

John R. and Nelson B. Waymire, sons of William Enoch, served in the Civil War, John R. having a deep scar on his face as a result of his war experience.

There was a noticeable resemblance among the Waymire brothers. At the time of the death of William Enoch Waymire, my father, John Waymire, his sister Rebecca and husband, Thomas Smith, went to the funeral, going to the church during the services. In the words of a relative who was present, "We were almost shocked when we saw John Waymire, for he was nearly the exact image of Uncle Enoch."

Sarah Yount Thornell lives at Sidney, Iowa. Her husband, Andrew, the son of Judge Andrew B. and Olive Gray Thornell, passed away recently. He had been an attorney in Sidney, since 1910, had finished one six year term as District Judge and was re-elected for another term.

The day before his death, he had begun a three weeks Term of Court, and that night was seized with a sudden illness and lived only a few hours. He was a prominent member of the Iowa and the American Bar Association, and also of the Elks Lodge and the Masonic Lodge in Sidney.
